DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 and 10-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shinkawa et al. (US 4,799,162).

Regarding claim 1: Shinkawa discloses an arrival time of a vehicle at one or more locations along the travel route for the vehicle comprising the steps of: generating a table including locations of the vehicle in a time sequence as the vehicle approaches each of the one or more locations and an ETA corresponding to each location; transmitting signals periodically from the vehicle. each signal including information of vehicle location at the time of transmission; and determining an arrival time for each transmitted location using the time sequenced location and ETA in the table (col. 6, lines 34-68; col. 9, lines 66-68; Figs. 3, 4).

Regarding claim 2: Shinkawa discloses mapping movement of a vehicle moving in a predetermined sequenced comprising transmitting signals periodically from the vehicle each signal including information of vehicle location at the time of transmission; and constructing a travel path using the periodically transmitted signal (col. 2, lines 21-58; col. 6, lines 34-62; col. 9, lines 66-68).

Regarding claim 10: Shinkawa discloses a method for real-time tracking of at least one vehicle that is in-transit in a predetermined area comprising the steps of: providing a plurality of signal receiving devices (22a-c) disposed throughout a region including the predetermined region so as to be capable of receiving signals being generated within the predetermined area; establishing a communications network (24a-c) operably interconnecting each of the plurality of signal receiving devices; transmitting signals periodically from each of the at least one in-transit vehicle, each signal being transmitted including location information of said each at least one in-transit vehicle (25a-c) at the time of transmission; receiving each of the periodically transmitted signals at one of the plurality of provided receiving devices; and determining if the receiving device receiving said each of the periodically transmitted signals is the processing receiving device that is to process the transmitted signal (col. 2, lines 21-58; col. 6, lines 34-62; col. 9, lines 66-68).

Regarding claim 12: See claim 10 above.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-9 are allowed.

Claims 11 and 13-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

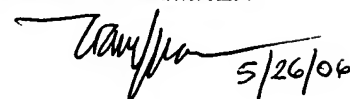

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art of Carreel et al. (US 5,483,234), Jones (US 5,657,010), Schmier et al. (US 6,374,176), Oster et al. (US 6,137,425), O'Connor et al. (US 6,803,862), Janky et al. (US 5,751,245), Olandesi (US 5,739,774), and Westerlage et al. (US 5,987,377) are cited to show a variety of vehicle estimated time of arrival systems.
